CLERK: There are 9 ayes, 5 nays to go under call, Mr. President.

PRESIDENT: The motion prevails. The house is back under call. Now then, Mr. Clerk, do we have the...members are to be in your seats, your own proper seats during the time the house is under call. The Sergeants will nudge members to encourage them to return to their seats in accordance with the rules. Four members are excused at the present time. I ask you please to record your presence under the call of the house, please. Senator Schmit. Senator Lamb. Senator Morehead. Senator Vickers. Senator Haberman, turn on your presence light, please. Senator Vickers is back with us. Record your presence, Senator Vickers. Senator Sieck. Senator Nichol. Senator Nichol, please return to the Chamber for the call of the house. Now then we are back to the motion of Senator Hall to reconsider the proposition that you're talking on, Senator Marsh. Do you wish to make a further statement on it?

SENATOR MARSH: Mr. President and members of the Legislature, I believe I am closing on the issue which Senator Hall presented for us. I want to thank Senator Hall for his interest and concern for a segment of the population who end up being displaced homemakers through no choice of her own and who wish to be tax paying citizens and who with the services provided by Displaced Homemakers can be. We have a number of persons within a short length of time who are returned to the tax rolls as producers and not consumers, your tax dollars at work. You've seen signs when you've gone vacationing in other states, Displaced homemakers provide your tax dollars at work to multiply and make more tax dollars for the State of Nebraska. This is a service which has paid dividends to our state. It is a service which has earned a position of respect and credit in the State of Nebraska. It did not happen easily. The dollars have come hard all through the years. They have paid benefits. They have paid dividends to our state. I urge your support for Senator Hall's amendment and I urge you to go home with a proud twist to your shoulders for having done the right thing. I plan to support this motion. Thank you, Mr. President.
